121 1794 Maris No. 36. The Plicæ, but little circulated, scarce.

122 1794 Maris No. 38. Roman Plicæ, very fine specimen of this scarce variety, nearly or quite equal to the piece that sold for $7 at the Burton sale, Oct. 26.

123 1794 Maris No. 39. Head of 1795, fine, evenly struck and rare.

124 1795 Thin planchet, One Cent in centre of wreath, very slightly rubbed above ear and part of legend on reverse not strong, otherwise a very fine piece, very good color and fine, even surface.

125 1795 Thin planchet, One Cent high in wreath, very fine and a trifle better than the last described piece.

126 1795 Same variety as last and with the exception of a few trifling scratches on obverse, which scarcely mar the piece, equal or nearly equal to it.

127 1796 Liberty Cap, No. 1, date wide and evenly spaced, 1 and 6 touch the head, fine and of good color.

128 1796 Liberty Cap, No. 2, date close, 9 and 6 being near together, pole longer than the last, curious dot between B and E of LIBERTY, fine and of good steel color.

129 1796 Liberty Cap, No. 3, 6 of date far from bust, the "Open Mouth" variety, fine, rare.

130 1796 Liberty Cap, No. 4, similar to No. 1, but 1 and 6, though near, do not touch the head, pole long and reaches nearly to the milling extra good or fine, rare.

131 1796 Liberty Cap, No. 5, date very wide, the 1 far from 7 and near end of last curl; 9 lower than 6 and close to it, extra good, nearly fine, rare.

132 1798 Three curious parallel breaks in the die back of head, very fine and of very good color.

133 1799 The variety over '98. A splendid specimen of this rare date, shows only the slightest possible marks of circulation. All the hair lines sharp and distinct and a fine, even, steel color. The finest specimen of this variety we have seen and probably the finest known. Cost the former owner $55.

134 1799 Perfect date, very fair or good, the date strong; reverse shows the mint mark distinctly, very rare.
135 1801 1-000 variety, very fine and of good color, scarce.
136 1802 Fine.
137 1804 Barely touched by circulation. Shows the break on the obverse but not on the reverse die. Steel color and and a most desirable specimen, very rare.
138 1804 Shows both breaks on the obv. and rev., nearly equal to the last and of a fine chocolate color, very rare.
139 1804 Perfect die. Has been corroded and cleaned at some period long past and has again secured a good color, though surface is slightly rough, but a fine and desirable specimen showing but little circulation, very rare.
140 1804 Perfect die, very good specimen, showing nearly all of the hair lines, reverse also very good, very rare.
141 1804 Re-strike, bright red.
142 1805 Extremely fine, barely touched by cabinet friction, of a fine even color and in this condition very rare.
